Construction Growth- “best pace since July 2008”

AWCI'S Construction Dimensions, January 2013 magazine stated a significant increase in multifamily production. An 11.9 percent gain to 300,000 units nationwide has been the best growth pace since July 2008. Multifamily permits remained high in the month of October 2012. This is encouraging news for the construction industry as some project the amount of multifamily units built to double in the year to come.
